Accessibility disclaimer

Digiproduct – Digital Solutions Ltd. makes every effort to provide a quality, respectful, accessible and equal service for elderly people and people with disabilities.

A lot of work has been invested in the Digiproduct website in order to provide a good, clear and orderly browsing experience as much as possible.

This website complies with the requirements of the regulations on equal rights for people with disabilities (service accessibility adjustments), 2013.
The accessibility adjustments were made according to the recommendations of the Israeli standard (TI 5568) for content accessibility on the Internet at level AA and the international WCAG2.0 document.

What is an accessible website?
An accessible website is a website that allows the right of elderly people and people with disabilities to browse the Internet fully and equally on the same level of efficiency and enjoyment as all users.

The Digiproduct website was accessed as follows:

The site has been adapted to all types of modern browsers (i.e. all except Internet Explorer).
Changes and tests were carried out on the site so that it fits all browsers and platforms – desktop, tablet, mobile (responsive site).
An adjustment was made for browsing the website using the keyboard.
An adjustment was made to browse the site for people with visual impairments.
Added an option to increase and decrease the text.
Added option to use grayscale.
Added high contrast option.
Added inverse contrast option.
Added an option to use a light background.

Added option to highlight links.

Added an option to use a readable font.

Contact methods and suggestions for streamlining and improving accessibility:

Digiproduct makes the best of its efforts in order to improve the issue of accessibility on the website on all its levels.
If you encounter any defect directly related to the issue of accessibility, we will be happy to hear from you about it and fix it as quickly as possible.
You can contact us with an accurate description of the defect using one of the following contact methods:

To our phone number: 972- 549 292 002

To our email address: CONTACT@DIGIPRODUCT.CO.IL